

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

	Page
Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Motivation for writing this thesis	xi
Abbreviations	xiii
1. Review of the assessment literature.	1
2. Overview of medical education in South Africa.	61
3. Research questions posed in this thesis.	109
4. Portfolio assessment using a structured interview.	117
5. Are specialist certification examinations a reliable measure of physician competence?	129
6. Formative assessment promotes learning in undergraduate clinical clerkships.	145
7. A structured assessment of newly qualified medical graduates.	155
8. Performance of academically-at-risk medical students in a problem-based learning programme. A preliminary report.	171
9. A model for selecting assessment methods for evaluating medical students in African medical schools.	187
10. Summary and conclusions.	201
Afrikaans translation	215
Appendices	231
Curriculum vitae	263
Author's publications	265