

Propositions related to the thesis entitled

The brilliance of value based breast cancer care

Pien van Egdome, 2 september 2020

1. "The Automated Breast Volume Scanner can accurately measure longest tumour diameter and tumour volume in the neoadjuvant setting." – this thesis
2. "Measuring PROs during treatment has the potential to monitor and detect changes in physical or psychological problems at the outpatient clinic." – this thesis
3. "The overall positive experiences reported by breast cancer patients regarding the use of PROMs further substantiate the value of the rising VBHC initiative." – this thesis
4. "Baseline scores and reference scores are pivotal when PROs are being used at the outpatient clinic to tailor and improve the care delivered." – this thesis
5. "Patients should be allowed to make their decisions based on their psychological state, values, and preferences, with the proviso that it is oncologically safe." – this thesis
6. "The success of implementation depends fundamentally on the willingness of those involved to change their established views and behaviors."
7. "Change brings opportunities. On the other hand, change can be confusing." – Harvard Professor Michael E. Porter, Founder of VBHC
8. "I've always believed that if you put in the work, the results will come." – Michael Jordan
9. "Although there are many factors to consider, an understanding of the expected satisfaction with breasts and quality of life is central to the decision-making process." – K.B. Santosa, JAMA Surgery, 2018
10. "Be brilliant at the basics."
11. "Here comes the sun, and I say it's all right." – The Beatles, 1969